Mr. Conway is to be here on Thursday in his official capacity to make an address at the State Fair. Almost from the hour he was sworn in, and as president of the Democratic Senate grasped the gavel, there have been differences which, it is stated, have resulted in serious friction between Mr. Conway and the leading between Mr. Conway and the leading members of his party. His Assemblymen joined the insurgents in their opposition to William F. Sheehan, the candidate of his party for United States Senator. Also, it is added, Mr. Conway has not been in accord on many matters with several Democratic Senators. However, that may be a state of the several democratic Senators. that the man most likely to be nomina for Lieutenant-Governor, should Conway be considered unavailable by cash or notes received which he did not renomination, is Mr. Lazansky, whose record as Secretary of State is flawless and whose strength in Kings county as a

Mr. Murphy had little or nothing to say of moment. All the fifty-one State committeemen and the sixty-one county chairman are to speak freely at the conference and are to go into exhaustive de-tails as to the condition of Democratic affairs in their ballwicks. If there is opposition to Gov. Dix's renomination opposition to Gov. Dix's renomination they are to furnish the evidence and this must not be, it was stated to-night, of a hearsay, theysay character. Mr. Rowell made a hurried trip to Hartford and laid the matter before Herbert Knox Smith and Ernest W. Smith, and he says they assured him that the Frogressive organization in Stamford had he says they assured him that the Frogressive organization in Stamford had no right to hold up the membership an plication of himself and his friends. The trip, apparently, did him no good, for tonight Mr. Rowell and his friends were refused admittance to the caucus.

To make sure that no objectionable person would enter the caucus the regular Progressives issued cards with the name of the person to be admitted written on the card, which was signed by the committee. Mr. Rowell claims that these cards were distributed by automobile to-day only to such Progressives as the Progressive bosses wished to attend the caucus.

gressive bosses wished to attend the caucus.
Gutzon Borglum, a close friend of Col Theodore Roosevelt, is the mainspring in the Progressive movement here. His word is law in the party. He is chairman of the centralcommittee.

Said Mr. Rowell to-night:

"Mr. Borglum's action and the action of his associates in excluding from the caucus to-night men who declared their bona fide intention to support the national Progressive ticket was arbitrary in the extreme and the rankest kind of bossism.

"Myself and my friends here are following the example of our illustrious candidate for President, Col. Roosevelt. Wa are holding the same kind of a caucus that he held in Chicago. The 'bosses' have given us the road roller just as he got it in Chicago."

Dix Interests Club in Forestry. ALBANY, Sept. 10 .- Gov. Dix said to-day that practical forestry is to be introduced that practical forestry is to be introduced on the great private preserve of the Adrondack League Club in Herkimer county. The preserve adjoins property of the Governor and he has long been anxious to have the owners treat it as a commercial proposition rather than as a hunting preserve. He advised the club to set out two trees in place of every one cut down.

A Living Room of Restful Charm

THAT air of grateful comfort which should mark the Living Room as a place of ease and solace may be achieved by a thoughtful discrimination in the choice of its Furniture.

The Chesterfield Sofa, with its abundant pillows-the Table ample both for its garniture of books and magazines as for the hospitable evening Lamp-the dignified Tall Clock with its somnolent tick—all these and others may be found in some one of our twelve Galleries.
